The O'Neill Brothers Announce First Holiday Shows in Over a Decade

Performances will be held at the Ives Auditorium at the Masonic Heritage Center in Bloomington, MN on December 16-17, 2022

BLOOMINGTON (November 1, 2022)— For the first time in 12 years, acclaimed artists The O'Neill Brothers are coming together again for two nights of holiday music and celebration. Their shows will include classic favorites on two grand pianos and an incredible lineup of local guest musicians.

"We really miss performing together," says Tim O'Neill, who has focused most of his efforts over the past 12 years on being a dad. "My kids have not seen their uncle Ryan and me do what we love together on stage."

"After more than two years of the pandemic, people are aching to get together and participate in the traditions they had to set aside," says Ryan O'Neill. "Now seems like a perfect time to restart our holiday performances."

The O'Neill Brothers have sold over one million CDs to fans around the world, and their music has been streamed more than one billion times worldwide. They have composed music for HBO (including "Sex and the City"), NBC, and ESPN and they've performed for President George H.W. Bush. Within the last few years, not only did the New Prague natives find themselves as the #4 streamed Minnesota artist on Spotify but were also inducted into the Minnesota Music Hall of Fame.

This year's holiday concerts promise an evening of live performances of many holiday favorites and several original songs from their vast repertoire with a few laughs for audiences of all ages to enjoy.
